

Grand Parents' Celebration at Reliance School (English Medium)

Grandparent's day was celebrated on 6th March Tuesday 2012 to give honor and love to grandparents for the support and guidance they give to their grandchild and parents in solving problems of life. The day was organized as an acknowledgement of their unconditional love and blessings which they shower on their grandchild. The Grandparents day was initialized in West Virginia in September 1973 and was set up a special day conserved just for grandparents. Assembling of three or four generation together made the occasion very interesting in Reliance School English Medium on 6th March 2012. It was unique to see the connection between the oldest and newest member of the family. There were many activities for grandparent to make their day memorable and enjoyable. The Programme started with a beautiful prayer " O Palanhare". Lightening of lamp by the grandparents was the graceful moment. The grandparents were greeted by their grandchild by offering them English Rose which is a symbol of true love. This would keep their children in developing a connection with older generation. Beautiful dance was performed by little tiny tots. Prof.

Bhadresh Shah focused on the importance of Grandparents in family and specially for young generations. Two Games -1) Pick the flowers in one minute 2) Laugh out loudly was arranged for the entertainment of the grandparents. They showed their enthusiasm and sportsman spirit as a participants. Prize was given for their valuable support and participation in the games. To cherish the golden memories of their olden days , Antakshri song with light refreshment were arranged. The moment became emotional when Grandparents shared their beautiful experience of their olden days. Brochures and Thank You Card were distributed for their valuable support, guidance and time among all.

Hold My Hand

Once a little girl and her father were crossing a bridge. The father was scared kind of a person o he asked his little daughter, "Sweetheart", please Hold my Hand so that You don't fall in to the river." The little girl said, "No, Dad. You hold my hand". "What's the difference?" asked the puzzled father. "There is a big difference" replied the little girl If I hold your hand and something happens to me chances are there that I may let your hand go But if you hold my hand, I know for sure that no matters what happens, you will never let my hand go.

Using Acronymic Sentences to Remember Information

Creating an acronymic sentence is a good strategy to use when you have to remember information in a certain order. An acronymic sentence is a sentence that is created using the first letter of each piece of information to be remembered. Here is how to create an acronymic sentence.

- Write each piece of information you have to remember.
- Underline the first letter of each piece of information. If there is more than one word in a piece of information, underline the first letter of the most important word.
- Write a sentence using words that begin with the underlined letters. "My (Mercury) very (Venus) earthy (Earth) mother (Mars) just(Jupiter) served (Saturn) us (Uranus) nine (Neptune) pizzas (Pluto) is an acronymic sentence that students through the years have used to remember the order of planets around our sun, from closest to farthest. If you accept recent evidence that Pluto is not a planet, you can use "My very earthy mother just served us noodles."

shown in order from highest to lowest: Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Evansville, South Bend, Gary. Here is an acronymic sentence you can use to remember these cities in the order shown. "Insects from everywhere seem gross." Try to form an acronymic sentence that is funny or has a personal meaning for you. You will find the sentence easier to remember if you do this. When you remember the acronymic sentence you create, each word in the sentence will help you remember the piece of information it represents (for example, "Insects" represents "Indianapolis"). Creating acronymic sentences is an effective and fun way to remember information.

The Ten Study Habits of Successful Students

Successful students have good study habits. They apply these habits to all of their classes. Read about each study habit. Work to develop any study habit you do not have. Successful students:

- 1. Try not to do too much studying at one time. If you try to do too much studying at one time, you will tire and your studying will not be very effective. Space the work you have to do over shorter periods of time. Taking short breaks will restore your mental energy.
- 2. Plan specific times for studying. Study time is any time you are doing something related to schoolwork. It can be completing assigned reading, working on a paper or project, or studying for a test. Schedule specific times throughout the week for your study time.

- 3. Try to study at the same times each day. Studying at the same times each day establishes a routine that becomes a regular part of your life, just like sleeping and eating. When a scheduled study time comes up during the day, you will be mentally prepared to begin studying.
- 4. Set specific goals for their study times. Goals will help you stay focused and monitor your progress. Simply sitting down to study has little value. You must be very clear about what you want to accomplish during your study times.
- 5. Start studying

when planned. You may delay starting your studying because you don't like an assignment or think it is too hard. A delay in studying is called "procrastination." If you procrastinate for any reason, you will find it difficult to get everything done when you need to. You may rush to make up the time you wasted getting started, resulting in careless work and errors.

- 6. Work on the assignment they find most difficult first.

Your most difficult assignment will require the most effort. Start with your most difficult assignment since this is when you have the most mental energy.

- 7. Review their notes before beginning an assignment. Reviewing your notes can help you make sure you are doing an assignment correctly. Also, your notes may include information that will help you complete an assignment.
- 8. Tell their friends not to call them during their study times. Two study problems can occur if your friends call you during your study times. First, your work is interrupted. It is not that easy to get back to what you were doing. Second, your friends may talk about things that will distract you from what you need to do. Here's a simple idea - turn off your cell phone during your study times.

- 9. Call another student when they have difficulty with an assignment. This is a case where "two heads may be better than one."
- 10. Review their schoolwork over the weekend. Yes, weekends should be fun time. But there is also time to do some review. This will help you be ready to go on Monday morning when another school week begins. These ten study habits can help you throughout your education. Make sure they are your study habits.
